Vatican's Message to the USA: "It's Time to Heal the Wounds"

"And I saw one of his heads as it were wounded to death; and his deadly wound was healed: and all the world wondered after the beast" Revelation 13:3.

The Vatican published a message to the United States on January 19, 2021 - on the eve of the swearing-in ceremony of Joe Biden. The message was titled: "Time to Heal Wounds in the United States." [1] But let's be clear, Rome isn't just talking about "healing" America of its political and social divide. No, they are talking about repairing international relations and healing the earth's climate crisis with Laudato Si'. Notice what the Vatican is calling for:

"Besides the internal theme of healing the American society, there is also the external front on which the international spotlight is focused. After years marked by unilateral decisions or bilateral agreements there are, in fact, great expectations for a return to multilateralism in foreign policy and a recovery of the relationship of trust with international organizations, starting with the UN. Some steps in this direction have already been announced in recent weeks, such as the return of the United States to the Paris Climate Agreement. This move converges with Pope Francis' commitment in favor of the custody of our Common Home expressed in *Laudato Si'." [1]

So what was the crime of Donald Trump which has caused the entire world to reject him like the plague? Donald Trump did not start any war; he put the nation in the best economic conditions we have seen in decades, he was forging international peace in the Middle East, he instituted no new taxes on the people and he took no freedoms from us. So, what was his crime? Back in May 2017, Pope Francis personally gave Donald Trump a copy of his encyclical, Laudato Si', which calls for strong action to address the climate crisis;^[2] but Trump ignored the Pope's words. He did not implement Laudato Si'. In fact, a month later in June of 2017, Trump announced that he was pulling the United States out of the Paris Climate Agreement which had everything to do with the Pope's climate change plans. Donald Trump questioned the science behind the climate change accord and the economic impact it would have on the United States. More importantly, Rome's climate agenda had a Sunday Law rest provision in it.

Now Rome is celebrating that Joe Biden, the pro-abortion, pro-LGBT+, pro-Fratelli Tutti and pro-Laudato Si' candidate, is now sworn in as the next president of the United States. Now the Vatican is calling on our nation, telling us that it is time to heal the wounds, all the wounds, both national and international. Rome not only mentions Laudato Si', but also quotes Fratelli Tutti in its message to America. Notice what the Vatican goes on to say:

"This awareness must not just remain an utterance but—quoting Fratelli Tutti—requires a concrete effort at all levels. It requires a commitment not only from political leaders, but from all the people, and their movements, to promote the common good and strengthen democracy. This is even more true today in a historical period in which, despite centrifugal forces and nationalistic interests, the pandemic has dramatically shown that no one is saved alone." ^[3]

The Vatican says the pandemic has brought us together. But, in reality, the pandemic has done more to threaten our civil and religious liberties, while Rome is exploiting this. When the government becomes god, you don't have the ability to disagree with what it imposes, be it mask mandates, lockdowns, social distancing, church closings or vaccinations. "Might makes right" causes all that the government does to appear beyond moral question. But it can be blatantly wrong.

The handling of this pandemic has transformed our free society into an order similar to communist China, where the government is almighty god. The government establishes what is good and evil; even what truth is. It can decide: what marriage is, what the definitions are for male and female and the numerous shades of sexual identity; that infanticide is not murder and what rights can be given or taken away from its citizens; all this regardless of their Constitution.

This is what Nimrod established in Genesis 10 and what King Nebuchadnezzar did in Daniel 3. This is what the popes did in the Dark Ages with the Holy Inquisition. And this is the prophetic stage that is being set before our eyes. Remember, Rome received a deadly wound, but this wound is rapidly being healed today.

In 1798, at the height of the Protestant Reformation, Napoleon took the Pope prisoner and left the seat of the Papacy empty, without a successor. This nearly destroyed the Papacy; the entire world thought this system had come to an end. But not so, for the prophetic pen of inspiration warned that Rome would rise again:

“And I saw one of his heads as it were wounded to death; and his deadly wound was healed: and all the world wondered after the beast” Revelation 13:3.

This “deadly wound” began to heal in 1929 with the Lateran Treaty signed by Mussolini and Gasparri in fascist Italy. It reinstated the Papacy and set them up in grand style with the Vatican as a sovereign territory right in the heart of Rome! With this spectacular resurrection, our modern world has been “wondering” after her ever since. Thanks to more than 60 years of ecumenism (masterfully executed through Vatican II) Protestantism, for the most part is dead and no longer a threat to the Papacy in Rome’s agenda. President Trump was a threat, but they believe he has been removed. According to Bible prophecy, Rome will receive more than praise. She will eventually be worshiped by the world. This can only happen when the image of the beast is formed and another superpower enters the scene.

A new nation would come to power after 1798 and join religious and political forces to form an image to the beast. This nation would give praise, worship and authority (control) to the beast (Rome). One by one, the churches have joined the movement, including many of our own people. One by one, all nations are joining the movement. All the economic leaders and bankers have lined up. This is the spiritual fornication [described in Revelation 13, 17, 18]. Like Eve of old, they have been beguiled and are becoming “one mind” with “that old serpent, called the Devil and Satan,” and are giving their “power and strength to the beast.”

Yes, they have created a global community and a remarkable world-wide movement; but they do not have the blessing of God.

“And there followed another angel, saying, Babylon is fallen, is fallen, that great city, because she made all nations drink of the wine of the wrath of her fornication” Revelation 14:8.

“And the third angel followed them, saying with a loud voice, If any man worship the beast and his image, and receive his mark in his forehead, or in his hand, the same shall drink of the wine of the wrath of God, which is poured out without mixture into the cup of his indignation; and he shall be tormented with fire and brimstone in the presence of the holy angels, and in the presence of the Lamb: And the smoke of their torment ascendeth up for ever and ever: and they have no rest day nor night, who worship the beast and his image, and whosoever receiveth the mark of his name” Revelation 14:9-11.

Judgment has already been pronounced upon this pagan, mother-earth, sun-worshipping and law-breaking movement steeped in spiritualism. In fact, this global movement will be completely overthrown and destroyed by the seven last plagues when Christ returns for the second time. By God’s grace, we want to be part of those who “come out of the Babylonian family” and are faithful. We want to be part of those who are proclaiming Revelation 14:6-12 with power to the world. They are described in verse 12:

“Here is the patience of the saints: here are they that keep the commandments of God, and the faith of Jesus” Revelation 14:12.

We cannot afford to deviate from the faith that is based on the word of God. Any movement that compromises the truth and embraces or tolerates the grave errors and traditions of the papacy will feel the soul-destroying consequences described in the verses above. With these biblical/prophetic events unfolding right before our eyes, let us determine to take God’s message and spread it around the world. Let us take this message to “every kindred, nation, tongue and people” Revelation 14:6.

The Unholy Alliance between the Vatican and the United States is Unfolding

The Joe Biden administration and Pope Francis' pontificate are creating an unholy alliance that will enforce Catholic social doctrine while denying others their religious and constitutional freedoms. Joe Biden and Pope Francis are strategically teaming up to use their power to propel the world towards the Great Reset, which is the resurgence of global socialism under the guise of Catholic social justice. This union is the culmination of Vatican II and represents what Rome has been trying to bring to the world for decades.

Modernism and liberalism are the epitome of the current Papacy and the American presidency. We see a union between the global left and Pope Francis as they commit to working together on areas of common ground. We are not talking about the Pope speaking out on the current problems of our world. No. What is worrisome is his participation and engagement with liberal policies that go beyond the scope of a religious institution. There is no problem when church leaders weigh in on issues that arise in politics. Churches can certainly speak up for or against any political measures. But that is not what we are seeing under the pontificate of Pope Francis.

In fact, the Pope and other religious leaders have been silent on the real moral issues (abortion, gay marriage, transgender identity, etc.) while engaging in political issues that God's word does not sanction. A new morality has been created. It's no longer about the 10 Commandments. It's about climate change, open borders, mass migration, universal income, wealth redistribution, ending capitalism and Sunday sacredness (Laudato Si'). The voice of the church is being misapplied and misused by self-serving politicians dressed as clerics. Instead of sharing what God says about salvation and sin, religious leaders are trying to reshape our world politically with Marxism (Fratelli Tutti).

One of the main issues on which the Vatican and the United States are coming together is climate change. Both Joe Biden and Pope Francis have called this one of the biggest problems facing the world. Joe Biden is making climate change the centerpiece of his administration and has surrounded himself with scientists from the Pontifical Academy of Sciences. These are scientists who are appointed by the Pope to become members of the Vatican-based group.

Joe Biden has appointed Eric Lander, a Fellow of the Pontifical Academy of Sciences, [1] as his Scientific Advisor and Director of the Office of Science and Technology Policy, a new position in the White House cabinet. [2] This unholy alliance is trying to use religion to “depoliticize” the issue of climate change. Rome has become the new propaganda tool to persuade all the world religions to embrace their climate message. So we are being bombarded by Pope Francis who is telling us that climate change is not a political issue, but a religious and moral imperative that must be addressed immediately.

This type of collaboration between church and state will continue to grow and will ultimately be seen as the solution for bringing permanent religious, social and political change. The church is taking a more active role in facilitating global policy, and politicians and governments are coming together to implement these reforms. This trend towards political and religious unity is the foundation for the unholy alliance between the Vatican and the United States.

Considering that such a unity will allow Rome to more effectively promote a new social and political society (Fratelli Tutti), many Protestant leaders are already reaching across the gulf and clasping the hand of Rome in the work of remodeling our political and religious structures. Everyone is coming together, and the Biden administration will implement Rome’s policies faster than you can imagine in the coming months.

Let us beware of such a union. Prophecy declares that such a framework will be used to implement the mark of the beast. There will be a movement to establish Sunday observance by law (Laudato Si'). We have known for years that such a movement was coming. These predictions are based on the Word of God. Prophecy predicts that a sinister power will arise in the last days and impose a “religious” test on the people.

“And all that dwell upon the earth shall worship him, whose names are not written in the book of life of the Lamb slain from the foundation of the world” Revelation 13:8.

“And he exerciseth all the power of the first beast before him, and causeth the earth and them which dwell therein to worship the first beast, whose deadly wound was healed” Revelation 13:12.

The above verses describe a religious requirement imposed by the state. The seed of this development is present in this new unholy alliance between the Vatican and the United States. And although the whole world may be in favor of this cooperation, God and the framers of our Constitution are against it. The beast power of Revelation 13 will eventually pronounce a death penalty on those who refuse to worship the beast and receive his mark, but God will pronounce the penalty of everlasting death upon those who do (Revelation 14:9).

The stage for this final conflict is unfolding before our eyes. Governments must be very careful not to participate in any attempt to impose religious propaganda on their people by law. That is not part of the state's business, and religion is always in a much healthier spiritual condition when its doctrines are confined to its own legitimate sphere and away from politics. Establishing a religious test in these last days is something that God never authorized or commanded, and it will only bring persecution on the minority.

“Sooner or later Sunday laws will be passed. But there is much for God's servants to do to warn the people. This work has been greatly retarded by their having to wait and stand against the devisings of Satan, which have been striving to find a place in our work. We are years behind” (Review and Herald, February 16, 1905).

The Massachusetts Catholic Conference is Urging its State Legislature and Governor to Adopt the Common Ground Contained in Laudato Si'

The state of Massachusetts is struggling to pass a new climate change bill, as Governor Charlie Baker [pictured below] has refused for a second time to sign a bill passed by the state legislature. The new climate policy is designed to bring the state of Massachusetts to “net zero carbon emissions by 2050.” [1]

The bill would “increase the cost of housing” and “prevent” new affordable “constructions.” Also, by 2035, the only new cars sold in the state would be “electric.” The bill was also looking to convert “1 million homes from fossil fuel to electric heat.” [2] But due to the large economic impact that the legislation in its current form would have on the state, Governor Baker has vetoed the bill.

Now Rome is intervening in this climate debate. The executive director of the Massachusetts Catholic Conference, James Driscoll, wrote a letter to several legislators involved in the bill. Notice what the letter said. The following was published by the Boston Pilot, the official newspaper of the Roman Catholic Archdiocese of Boston:

In his letter, Driscoll pointed to Pope Francis’ words in his 2015 encyclical Laudato Si', where he spoke of the warming climate and its impact on the environment.

“Humanity is called to recognize the need for changes of lifestyle, production and consumption, in order to combat this WARNING or at least the human causes which produce or aggravate it,” the Pope said in his encyclical.

Driscoll urged the state’s political leaders to “find common ground in the days that follow and enact a bill that is vital in providing for a healthy future for all Massachusetts residents and the generations that will follow.” [3]

Here we see the agents of Rome urging the Pope’s encyclical, Laudato Si’, on political leaders. This is concerning, considering what inspiration says about this very thing:

“Legislators, in order to secure public favor, will yield to the popular demand for a law enforcing Sunday observance” (The Great Controversy, p. 592).

Lawmakers are being pressured by Catholic entities to make Laudato Si’ the enforcement mechanism for the climate change agenda. This certainly sounds like what is described in the book of Revelation 13:12-17, considering that Laudato Si’* has a Sunday rest provision (Section #237) and a law provision (Section #179). This push will become more and more universal in the coming months.

“Soon the Sunday laws will be enforced, and men in positions of trust will be embittered against the little handful of God’s commandment-keeping people. Missions should be established in all our large cities, and earnest efforts put forth for these neglected centers ... I have been pleading with the Lord to roll the burden on the watchmen” (Manuscript Release, vol. 4, p. 279).

Local Government Officials in Ireland Tell their Citizens to Follow Laudato Si’

Government leaders are taking up the challenge of promoting the great ecological conversion taught by Pope Francis in his encyclical Laudato Si’. Pope Francis calls for “decisive action, here and now” in order to avoid “catastrophes, desolation and dire consequences” (Laudato Si’ #161). Politicians are answering the call to focus on the great “harm we have inflicted” on “our sister, Mother Earth” (Laudato Si’ #1, 2).

On February 17, 2021, political leaders in County Mayo, Ireland, were “appealing” to people not to use their cars during this year’s celebration of Lent. Noel Gibbons, Mayo County Council Road Safety Officer, is asking people to “walk or use their bikes” to help reduce CO2 emissions when taking short trips. Then Laura Dixon, Climate Action Officer for the Mayo County Council, made the following remarkable statement:

“Going on a ‘car fast’ for Lent and reducing the amount we use the car is a great opportunity to slow down, engage with nature and, as Pope Francis said in Laudato Si’, ‘to care for our common home’.” [\[1\]](#)

A “car” fasting for Lent, engaging “nature” and Laudato Si’? It is very concerning when political leaders cite Catholic doctrine and Pope Francis’ encyclical when making policy recommendations to their communities. Laudato Si’ not only calls for celebrating Sunday and the Eucharist as the “law of weekly rest” (#237), but it also focuses on the damage done to Mother Earth. There is nothing stated about the harm we cause to God and the sins against our Creator.

Laudato Si’ has become the new eco-religion that the world is embracing, including religious and political leaders. It is concerned about the imaginary sins we commit against rocks, trees, land, water and animals, while denying real sins against God, the final judgment and the need to form a personal relationship with the Creator. There is no concern for the fate of people who die every day without Christ. Sin and evil are reduced to social and ecological constructs that require political remedies through civil legislation.

Our civilization is in apostasy and rebellion against God. The immediate crisis facing humanity is Christological, not ecological. Somehow the modern church is not focusing on this real spiritual dilemma. Instead, we are immersed in the global discussion on how to save the planet when we should be engaged in a worldwide discussion about the eternal destiny of the human race and how we can save souls.

The truth is that our earth's ecosystems are going nowhere. Our planet is being "preserved" by the word of God for the coming Day of Judgment. Are we getting ready for this day? And are we helping others prepare for the day when we will all have to stand before God to give an account?

"For this they willingly are ignorant of, that by the word of God the heavens were of old, and the earth standing out of the water and in the water: whereby the world that then was, being overflowed with water, perished: but the heavens and the earth, which are now, by the same word are kept in store, reserved unto fire against the day of judgment and perdition of ungodly men" 2 Peter 3:5-7.

Pope Francis with Juan Vicente Boo aboard the papal airplane.

‘Francis, through Interfaith Dialogue, has become the Pope of all Religions,’ Says a Senior Vatican Correspondent

Juan Vicente Boo is a veteran news correspondent who has been following the Popes of Rome for 22 years. As a Vatican insider stationed in Vatican City, he has met with Pope John Paul II, Pope Benedict XVI and Pope Francis. Mr. Boo travels with the Pope and reports on all his activities. On February 21, 2021, during an interview on COPE radio in Spain, he affirmed that “Francis, through his dialogue with all religions, has become the Pope of all religions.” [1]

Juan Vicente Boo is absolutely correct because he is only echoing what everyone in the Vatican already knows. Ecumenism and interfaith dialogue are healing the deadly wound (Revelation 13:3) and making Francis the Pope of all religions. Why can't Protestants understand this? Why don't Seventh-day Adventist leaders open their eyes? Is it because all churches have been infiltrated by Jesuits? Rome's interfaith movement has unleashed a series of disastrous errors that are distorting the divinely revealed truths of God by replacing biblical revelation with human relativism.

This has led to the false affirmation that all religions are one; that God wants there to be religious diversity, just as He has willed gender and sexual diversity. This teaches that followers of every religion are children of the same God. However, diversity is just another name for perversity. That is why under Pope Francis' universal fraternity (Fratelli Tutti), every pagan god, every false religion and every idol known to man may be embraced without hesitation.

"What say I then? that the idol is any thing, or that which is offered in sacrifice to idols is any thing? But I say, that the things which the Gentiles sacrifice, they sacrifice to devils, and not to God: and I would not that ye should have fellowship with devils" 1 Corinthians 10:19, 20.

Thus, Francis has become the Pope of all religions. If Francis is the Pope of all religions, then he is the Antichrist because the true ministers of Jesus represent Christ; not Mother Earth, Buddha, Allah, Ganesha, Shiva, Vishnu, the so-called currently co-reigning spurious Virgin Mary or other idol demons. Pope Francis is uniting the Christian and Protestant world with false idol demon-gods, relegating the true God of heaven to the same level as the idols. This apostasy, which is leading the world to violate the first through fourth Commandments, is being spearheaded by the Pope of Rome who claims to be the vicar of Christ. [He is not!!!]

Where is the condemnation by the Protestant world? Where are the protests by the commandment-keeping people? Whenever dangerous heresies threaten to lead people astray, God's faithful servants have always promptly intervened by giving a warning. Any failure on our part to speak up will only allow these errors to increase more and more.

The First Century Christians and martyrs never met in prayer with the idols of their time: Jupiter, Mars, Diana and others. They believed that any collaboration with these false gods was betraying the gospel of Christ. They were right. It is this generation that has abandoned the faith. The early church in its infancy and purity did not compromise the truth, they were too busy converting men and women to Christ. Here is the command given to us by Christ:

“And he said unto them, Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature. He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved; but he that believeth not shall be damned” Mark 16:15, 16.

This is not an ecumenical call to unite with pagan ideology. This verse calls us to the true work that followers of Christ will do: expand the preaching of the everlasting gospel. This work must be done before the return of Jesus. As Pope Francis leads “Christians” and “Protestants” to betray the gospel commission, may our Heavenly Father place in our hearts a new sense of urgency to lead us to a greater willingness to share God’s last message of mercy in all its fullness with the world.

“And after these things I saw another angel come down from heaven, having great power; and the earth was lightened with his glory. And he cried mightily with a strong voice, saying, Babylon the great is fallen, is fallen, and is become the habitation of devils, and the hold of every foul spirit, and a cage of every unclean and hateful bird. For all nations have drunk of the wine of the wrath of her fornication, and the kings of the earth have committed fornication with her, and the merchants of the earth are waxed rich through the abundance of her delicacies. And I heard another voice from heaven, saying, Come out of her, my people, that ye be not partakers of her sins, and that ye receive not of her plagues. For her sins have reached unto heaven, and God hath remembered her iniquities” Revelation 18:1-5.

Pope Francis: God's Wrath will Bring Another World-wide Flood if we don't Solve the Climate Crisis

Speaking to members of the Laudato Si' Community, Pope Francis turned up the rhetoric of climate change by warning of another biblical flood and the arrival of the "wrath of God." This time, according to the Pope, a worldwide flood is coming because of the "increase in temperature and the melting of glaciers" if "we continue on the same path." [1]

These words of Pope Francis are recorded in a book that will be published on March 3, 2021 called, On Virtues and Vices. The book is based on conversations between Pope Francis and Marco Pozza, a prison chaplain. The interview with Pope Francis "explores how doubts and crises of faith lead us deeper into the mystery of God." [2]

First of all, there will be no world-wide flood because the Lord promised that it would not happen again when He said: "Neither shall all flesh be cut off any more by the waters of a flood; neither shall there any more be a flood to destroy the earth" Genesis 9:11.

The second point is a theological error in the Pope's statement. The wrath of God is not awakened by the weather. God's wrath is revealed against sin.

"For the wrath of God is revealed from heaven against all ungodliness and unrighteousness of men, who hold the truth in unrighteousness" Romans 1:18.

The holy displeasure of God falls on the sinfulness of man. We do not avoid judgment by eliminating CO2 or carbon footprint, but by removing unbiblical, anti-family and anti-God heresies from our lives. We do not avoid divine punishment by changing weather patterns, but by changing our corrupt and sinful hearts. The coming vengeance against sin will not be a flood of water but a rain of fire against transgression, not our ecosystems.

STAND UP FOR WHAT YOU BELIEVE IN. EVEN IF IT MEANS STANDING ALONE.

Sin warps the mind into thinking that error is okay.

“In all this, they are surprised that you do not run with them in the same excesses of debauchery, and they slander you” 1 Peter 4:4.

Third, God notified Noah of the coming flood, the cause of the flood and the solution. It was a message based on divine revelation. It was God’s warning and His desire to save man. Pope Francis’ message about saving Mother Earth from a coming flood did not originate with God. This message came from the United Nations, the globalists of the New World Order and the worshippers of nature. The Pope does not sound like a preacher of righteousness but like a preacher of paranoia. His message has no theological basis. It is more aligned with the Shamans (high priests) of the Amazons.

The fourth point is that we already have a flood sweeping the world, and Pope Francis is partly responsible for the greatest disaster in history. A floodgate of apostasy and iniquity has engulfed the earth. An ungodly spiritual tsunami is sweeping away everything in its path. Abortion, euthanasia, the destruction of biblical marriage, the end of traditional families, feminism, the LGBT+ agenda, is destroying our society. This is the flood that should concern us. This is the real disaster that we must avert:

“Already, the doctrine that men are released from obedience to God’s requirements has weakened the force of moral obligation and opened the flood-gates of iniquity upon the world. Lawlessness, dissipation and corruption are sweeping in upon us like an overwhelming tide ... The infatuation of vice, the wanton taking of life, the terrible increase of intemperance and iniquity of every order and degree, should arouse all who fear God, to inquire what can be done to stay the tide of evil” (The Great Controversy, p. 585).

Abraham Lincoln Wins

by Charles Chiniquy

Note: Mr. Chiniquy was a Roman Catholic priest from Quebec who brought many Catholics to Illinois in the attempt to spread Catholicism in the USA. But he also taught the Bible and rebuked the corrupt Bishop of Chicago, Anthony O'Regan, for his evil deeds. So, Priest O'Regan united with a debauched soul by the name of Peter Spink, to sue Priest Chiniquy and take him to court on an evil charge of sexual perversion with Spink's own sister, Madame Bossey. False witnesses told lies about Chiniquy, one in particular, Priest Lebel; so Chiniquy hired a lawyer to save himself. That lawyer was Abraham Lincoln.

Priest Chiniquy said, "Though every word of that story was a perjury, there was such a color of truth and sincerity in my accuser, that his testimony fell upon me and my lawyers as a thunderbolt. My God only knows the weight of the waves of desolation which then passed over my soul."

After that lying testimony was given, there was a lull, and a most profound silence in the courtroom. All eyes were turned upon me, and I heard many voices speaking of me, whispering, "The Villain!"

FIFTY YEARS IN THE
CHURCH OF ROME
CHARLES CHINIQUEY

Those voices passed through my soul as poisoned arrows. Though innocent, I wished the ground would open under my feet and bring me down to the darkest abyss to conceal me from the eyes of my friends and the whole world.

However, Abraham Lincoln, interrupted the silence by addressing Priest Lebel with cross-questions so that his testimony, in the minds of many, soon lost much of its power.

At ten p.m. the court was adjourned to meet again the next morning and I went to the room of Mr. Lincoln with my two other lawyers, to confer about the day's work. My mind was unspeakably sad.

"My dear Mr. Chiniquy," said Mr. Lincoln, "though I hope tomorrow to destroy the testimony of Priest Lebel against you, I must concede that I see great dangers ahead. There is not the least doubt in my mind that every word he has said is a sworn lie; but my fear is that the jury thinks differently. I am a pretty good judge in these matters. I feel that our jury-men think that you are guilty. There is only one way to perfectly destroy the power of a false witness; it is by another direct testimony against what he has said, or by showing from his very lips that he has perjured himself. I have never seen two such skillful rogues as those two priests.

There is really a diabolical skill [1] in the plan they have concocted for your destruction. It is evident that the bishop is at the bottom of the plot. I do not like to conceal from you that I have several reasons to fear that you will be declared guilty, and condemned to a heavy penalty or to the penitentiary. It is very probable that we will have to confront that sister of Peter Spink tomorrow. Her sickness is probably a feint, in order not to appear. If she does not come, they will send some justice of the peace to get her sworn testimony, which will be more difficult to rebut than her own verbal declarations. That woman is evidently in the hands of the bishop. I know nothing so difficult as to refute such female testimonies, particularly when they are absent from the court. The only way to be sure of a favorable verdict tomorrow is, that God Almighty would take our part and show your innocence! Go to Him and pray, for He alone can save you." Mr. Lincoln was exceedingly solemn when he addressed those words to me and they went very deep into my soul.

Burning tears were rolling down my cheeks when he was speaking and there was on his face the expression of friendly sympathy which I shall never forget. Without being able to say a word I left him to go to my little room. It was nearly eleven o'clock. I locked the door and fell to my knees to pray but I was unable to say a single word.

At last the fountain of tears were opened and it relieved me to weep; I could then cry: 'Oh, my God! Have mercy upon me. Thou knowest my innocence! Hast Thou not promised that those who trust in Thee cannot perish? Oh! Do not let me perish, when Thou art the only One in whom I trust! Save me!'

At three a.m. I heard three knocks at my door, and I quickly went to open it. Who was there? Abraham Lincoln, with his face beaming with joy! I could hardly believe my eyes. It was my noble-hearted friend. One of the noblest men Heaven has ever given to earth! On seeing me bathed in tears, he exclaimed, "Cheer up, Mr. Chiniquy, I have the perjured priests in my hands. Their diabolical plot [1] is all known and if they do not fly away before dawn, they will surely be lynched. Bless the Lord. You are saved!" [2]

The sudden passage of extreme desolation to an extreme joy came near to killing me. I felt as if suffocated and unable to utter a single word. I took his hand, pressed it to my lips, and bathed with tears of joy. I said: "May God forever bless you, dear Mr. Lincoln. But please tell me how you can bring me such glorious news!"

Mr. Lincoln said, "As soon as Priest Lebel had given his perjured testimony against you yesterday, one of the agents of the Chicago press telegraphed to some of the principal papers of Chicago saying: 'It is probable that Mr. Chiniquy will be condemned.' And the little Irish boys began to sell their papers, filling the streets with cries: 'Chiniquy will be hung! Chiniquy will be hung!' The Roman Catholics were so glad to hear it that ten thousand extra copies have been sold.

"Among those who bought those papers was a friend of yours by the name of Terrien. He went to his wife and told her that you were to be condemned. When the woman heard it, she said, 'It is too bad, for I know Mr. Chiniquy is not guilty.'"

"How do you know that" said her husband. She answered: 'I was there when Priest Lebel made the plot and promised to give his sister two eighties of good land if she would swear a false oath and accuse Chiniquy of a crime which he had not even thought of at the time.'

"If that be so," said Terrien, 'we cannot allow Mr. Chiniquy to be condemned. Come with me to Urbana.'

"But that woman, being quite unwell, said to her husband, 'You know that I cannot go; but Miss Philomene Moffat was with me. She knows every particular of that wicked plot as well as I. She is well; go and take her to Urbana. There is no doubt that her testimony will prevent the condemnation of Mr. Chiniquy.'

"Terrien started immediately: and when you were praying God to come to your help, he was sending your deliverer at the full speed of the railroad cars. Miss Moffat has just given me the details of that diabolical plot. I have advised her not to show herself before the Court is opened. I will then send for her and when she will have given, under oath, the details she has just given me. I pity Spink with his perjured priests. As I told you, I would not be surprised if they were lynched: for there is a terrible excitement in town among many people, who from the beginning suspect that the priests have perjured themselves to destroy you. Now your suit is gained, and tomorrow, you will have the greatest triumph a man ever got over his confounded foes. But you are in need of rest as well as myself. Good bye."

Not long after the arrival of the trains from Chicago, Lebel came down from his room to see in the book where travelers register their names, if there were any newcomers from Chicago. What was his dismay when he saw the first name entered, Philomene Moffat! A deadly presentiment chilled the blood in his veins! He immediately sent for her.

"Miss Philomene Moffat here!" He exclaimed, when he saw her. "What are you coming here for this night?" He asked.

"You will know it, sir, tomorrow morning," she answered.

"Ah, wretched girl! You come to destroy me," he declared.

"She replied: 'I do not come to destroy you. You are already destroyed. Mr. Lincoln knows all!'"

"Oh!" he exclaimed, striking his forehead with his hands. Then taking a big bundle of banknotes from his pocketbook, he said, "Here are one hundred dollars for you if you will take the morning train back to Chicago."

"No way," she replied. "If you would offer me as much gold as this house could contain, I would not go!"

He then ran to the sleeping-room of Spink and said, "Get up! Withdraw your suit against Chiniquy; we are lost! Let us take the train! Chiniquy knows all our secrets!"

When the hour of opening the court came, there was an immense crowd, not only inside the courtroom, but outside its walls as well. Mr. Spink, pale as a man condemned to death, rose before the Judge and said, "Please withdraw my prosecution against Mr. Chiniquy. I am now persuaded that he is not guilty of the faults brought against him before this tribunal."

Mr. Lincoln, having accepted that reparation in my name, made one of the most admirable speeches I have ever heard on the cruel injustices I had suffered from my merciless persecutors. It had been very wise on their part to fly away and disappear before the opening of the court, for the whole city was ransacked by hundreds of people, looking for them.

Abraham Lincoln had not only defended me with the zeal and talent of the ablest lawyer I have ever known, but as the most devoted and noblest friend I ever had. After thanking him for the services he rendered, I requested that he show me his bill, assuring him that I would pay him to the last cent.

Mr. Lincoln answered me with a smile and an air of kindness, "My dear, Mr. Chiniquy, I feel proud and honored to have been called to defend you. But I have done it less as a lawyer than as a friend. The money I should receive from you would take away the pleasure I feel at having fought your battle. Your case is unique in my whole practice. I have never met a man so cruelly persecuted as you have been and who deserves it so little. Your enemies are devils incarnate. The plot they had concocted against you is the most hellish one I ever knew. But the way you have been saved from their hands, the appearance of that young and intelligent Miss Moffat, who was really sent by God in the very hour of need, is one of the most extraordinary occurrences I have ever seen. It makes me remember what I have often forgotten and what my mother often told me when I was young; that 'our God is a prayer-hearing God.' This good thought, sown into my young heart by that dear mother's hand, was just in my mind when I told you, 'Go and pray, God alone can save you.' But I confess to you that I had not faith enough to believe that your prayer would be so quickly and so marvelously answered. Now, let us speak of what you owe me. Well, well! How much do you owe me? You owe me nothing! For I suppose you are quite ruined. The expenses of such a suit, I know, must be enormous. Your enemies want to ruin you. Will I help to finish your ruin?"

"You are right," I answered him. "I am nearly ruined by my enemies. But you must support your family."

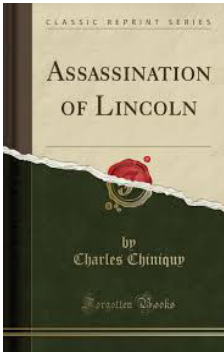

"Well! Well!" he answered, "I will give you a promissory note which you will sign." Taking a small piece of paper, he wrote: 'Urbana, May 23, 1853, Due A. Lincoln fifty dollars, for value received. Signed, C. Chiniquy.' He handed me the note, saying, "Can you sign that?"

After reading it, I said, "Dear Mr. Lincoln, this is a joke."

When Mr. Lincoln was writing the due-bill, the terrible presentiment that he would pay with his life, caused me to break into sobs and tears.

Mr. Lincoln asked in surprise, "Father Chiniquy, what are you crying for? Ought you not to be the most happy man alive?"

"Dear Mr. Lincoln," I answered, "Allow me to tell you that the joy I should naturally feel for such a victory is destroyed in my mind by the fear of what it may cost you. There were then in the crowd not less than ten or twelve Jesuits from Chicago and St. Louis, who came to hear my sentence of condemnation to the penitentiary. But it was on their heads that you have brought the thunders of heaven and earth! Nothing can be compared to the expression of their rage against you, when you not only wrenched me from their cruel hands, but you were making the walls of the courthouse tremble under the awful and superhumanly eloquent denunciation of the diabolical malice and total want of Christian principles.... What troubles my soul just now and draws my tears, is that it seems to me that I have read your sentence of death in their fiendish eyes." [Abraham Lincoln, the 16th president of the United States, was shot by James Surratt in the Ford Theater, April 15, 1865.]

Mr. Lincoln tried to divert my mind, at first, with a joke. "Sign this," he said, "it will be my warrant of death." But after I signed he became more solemn and said, "I know that Jesuits never forget nor forsake. But man must not care how and where he dies, provided he dies at the post of honor and duty." Then Mr. Lincoln turned and walked away.

[1] In the book, Making America Catholic, it describes Rome's "diabolical skill." It is their plan to destroy the United States so they can raise it from the ashes as a Catholic controlled nation.

[2] Rome's plots will become known according to 2 Thess. 2:3 – "Let no man deceive you by any means: for that day shall not come, except there come a falling away first, and that man of sin be revealed, the son of perdition."

Note: This true story was taken from the autobiography of Charles Chiniquy, "50 Years in the Church of Rome," 1884, chapter 58.

Making America Catholic

Just what is the Vatican's "Diabolical Plot" that Priest Charles Chiniquy mentioned back in 1884?

In the booklet, "Making America Catholic" by A.H. Beach, 1870, we read the following points:

- 1) The Pope has the right to give nations which are non-Catholic to Catholic regents who can reduce them to slavery.
- 2) The Pope can make slaves of those Christian subjects whose ruling power is interdicted by the Pope.
- 3) The Pope has the right to annul laws and constitutions.
- 4) He who kills one who is excommunicated [by the Roman Catholic Church] is no murderer in a legal sense.
- 5) We [Rome] hold upon the earth the place of God Almighty.
- 6) It is unlawful to grant unconditional freedom of thought, of speech, of writing or of worship.
- 7) Roman Catholics must obey their bishops whether right or wrong.
- 8) The Catholic seal is set upon the United States for ever.
- 9) There are more merits for obeying one's own Catholic superior than for obeying God Himself.
- 10) It is the intention of the Pope to possess the United States. In this intention he is aided by the Jesuits and all the Catholic prelates and priests.
- 11) We want to make the press of this country a positive agency in the dissemination of Catholic ideas. [They have accomplished this!]
- 12) Protestantism, the murderous hag, is slowly dying of corruption and congenital rottenness and she will not much longer encumber the earth. [Three reasons are: she has rewritten our text books, infiltrated our educational institutions and strongly influenced, if not taken over, the leadership of all church denominations.]
- 13) Those are not to be accounted murderers when burning with love and zeal for their Catholic mother (excommunicated Protestants) if they shall happen to kill a few of them.
- 14) If Catholics ever gain sufficient majority in this country, religious freedom is at an end.

Note: In case you were not aware, the Communists are flowing over our Northern border; and Catholics are flowing over our Southern border.

Here is an amazing quote from an old book by Christian Edwardson, Facts of Faith, 1943, Southern Pub. Assoc. - He was quoting the Protestant Magazine, October 1913, p. 474. On page 225 of his book he shared: "If Catholics ever attain, which they surely will, though at a distant day, the immense numerical majority in the United States, religious liberty, as at present understood, will be at an end. So say our enemies; so say we."

From The Great Controversy

“The Roman Church is far-reaching in her plans and modes of operation. She is employing every device to extend her influence and increase her power in preparation for a fierce and determined conflict to regain control of the world, to re-establish persecution, and to undo all that Protestantism has done. Catholicism is gaining ground upon every side. See the increasing number of her churches and chapels in Protestant countries. Look at the popularity of her colleges and seminaries in America, so widely patronized by Protestants. Look at the growth of ritualism in England and the frequent defections to the ranks of the Catholics. These things should awaken the anxiety of all who prize the pure principles of the gospel.

“Protestants have tampered with and patronized popery; they have made compromises and concessions which papists themselves are surprised to see and fail to understand. Men are closing their eyes to the real character of Romanism and the dangers to be apprehended from her supremacy. The people need to be aroused to resist the advances of this most dangerous foe to civil and religious liberty” (565).

“And let it be remembered, it is the boast of Rome that she never changes. The principles of Gregory VII and Innocent III are still the principles of the Roman Catholic Church. And had she but the power, she would put them in practice with as much vigor now as in past centuries. Protestants little know what they are doing when they propose to accept the aid of Rome in the work of Sunday exaltation. While they are bent upon the accomplishment of their purpose, Rome is aiming to re-establish her power, to recover her lost supremacy. Let the principle once be established in the United States that the church may employ or control the power of the state; that religious observances may be enforced by secular laws; in short, that the authority of church and state is to dominate the conscience, and the triumph of Rome in this country is assured.

“God’s word has given warning of the impending danger; let this be unheeded, and the Protestant world will learn what the purposes of Rome really are, only when it is too late to escape the snare. She is silently growing into power. Her doctrines are exerting their influence in legislative halls, in the churches, and in the hearts of men. She is piling up her lofty and massive structures in the secret recesses of which her former persecutions will be repeated. Stealthily and unsuspectingly she is strengthening her forces to further her own ends when the time shall come for her to strike. All that she desires is vantage ground, and this is already being given her. We shall soon see and shall feel what the purpose of the Roman element is. Whoever shall believe and obey the word of God will thereby incur reproach and persecution” (581).

Police Go Out in Full Force to Prevent Public Worship in Canada, Forcing Christians to Start Underground Churches

Regulations made by the local government in Alberta, Canada are overriding the freedom of worship. The Canadian government has restricted the number of people who can gather in church during the pandemic. GraceLife Church has refused to recognize the new health regulations that limit churches to just 15% of capacity. As a result, the church's pastor was arrested and spent a month in jail and the church has been closed and fenced off by authorities for violating health regulations during a pandemic. [1]

Dozens of police vehicles have blocked the access roads surrounding the church. So now the members have been left without a place to worship. The members of GraceLife Church have begun conducting worship services at undisclosed secret locations. They have become the first underground Christian church in North America, as their members refuse to stop holding services in defiance of the Canadian government. [2]

So here is one solitary Protestant church standing up for its beliefs, while the national denominations in Canada are in full compliance with government health regulations. Since when does a "HEALTH REGULATION" imposed by politicians nullify the fundamental rights of worship without the approval of the legislature? Here we have a "MINISTER OF HEALTH" with the power to imprison Canadian citizens for ANY-THING. Will Sunday soon become a mandatory day of rest for the “HEALTH” of the planet? You better believe it.

We are learning that this so-called pandemic is radically changing our societies; so much so, that a “HEALTH MINISTER” can enforce what ever he wants, without providing any evidence that Grace Life Church has posed a threat to anyone. The “science” behind the pandemic comes from the same scientists who say we evolved from monkeys. These are the same “scientists” that say the world is billions of years old and that a full-term fetus is not a baby, just tissue. These “scientists” also believe that men can get pregnant and have babies.

These are the same scientists who believe that climate change is the greatest crisis facing our world and that actions to save the planet are needed immediately. So, it is no big surprise that many do not trust the political motives behind a “science” that wants to end capitalism, eliminate borders, establish socialism, promote sex-reassignment surgeries for children, push feminism, adopt the LGBT+ agenda, legalize euthanasia, support abortion on demand, eliminate CO2 and disconnect people from their faith by closing down their worship services. The Constitution and Bill of Rights of the different nations seem not to mean anything during a so-called crisis:

“We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness.—That to secure these rights, Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed.” The Declaration of Independence, Second Continental Congress, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, 1776.

Our Founding Fathers made it clear that God is the source of our rights and freedoms. It was God who gave us the right to worship, not man. Our government didn’t give us anything. The government’s job is to protect the rights which God gave us. The purpose of having a “Bill of Rights” is to limit the power of government from taking away certain freedoms. Our rights don’t come from any elected official or non-elected bureaucrats. They come from God alone. We don’t need permission from anyone to worship or to preach the gospel. God has already commanded these in His word.

The Founding Fathers also made it clear that just powers of government can only come from the consent of the governed. The word “consent” is found 3 times in the U.S. Declaration of Independence and 11 times in our U.S. Constitution. Obviously, the Founding Fathers didn’t want the government to exercise its powers without our consent. These are the Protestant principles of our Constitution that are disintegrating before our eyes. The government’s use of power without our consent is tyranny.

Today we have politicians who tell us that certain “rights” that they did not give us are not absolute. No. It is the politicians who are not absolute. We have politicians who are unilaterally abolishing our right to worship and practice our faith. This is an abuse of power and a serious overreach of authority. These abuses of power are turning citizens into slaves and subjects.

Revelation 14:6-12 contains God’s last message of mercy to the world and includes a warning message against tyranny. As lawlessness and tyranny increase, God’s people must acknowledge God’s sovereignty above kings and rulers and proclaim His commandments and His gospel. As the signs of the times are being fulfilled, God’s church must throw off the shackles of bondage and quit trying to please everyone. Instead, let’s submit to the everlasting gospel of Jesus Christ (Revelation 14:6-12) and preach it in all its fullness, which is the answer to all the wickedness and tyranny we are seeing today.

Islamic Mosques in Canada Remain at Full Capacity While GraceLife Church is Shut Down

The Canadian Islamic Center, also known as the Al Rashid Mosque, is located in the city of Edmonton, the Canadian province of Alberta. GraceLife Church is also located in Edmonton. Yet in spite of Alberta’s restriction on houses of worship, the mosques have been allowed to continue with their worship services at full capacity while GraceLife Church has been raided by the police, their pastor has been jailed, a police blockade has been deployed and a 9-foot high fence has been erected around the church’s perimeter to prevent people from coming on the property. [1]

It is unclear why mosques are exempt from the government’s health mandate. Why hasn’t Alberta Health Services, the health authority for the Canadian province of Alberta, shut down Islamic mosques when their worship services are packed with people every Friday? Why are only Protestant churches being harassed, singled out and closed?

This is hypocrisy on the part of Canadian politicians who give certain exemptions towards one religion and not another. This proves that these health measures have nothing to do with “public safety.” How do Alberta health officials allow hundreds, if not thousands, of Muslims to come together in one mosque in violation of COVID-19 regulations if they really care about protecting their citizens during a pandemic?

Some are given special treatment, while others are denied. The same rules do not apply to everyone. So much for the rule of law, which used to mean that no one is above the law.

Or perhaps the authorities in Alberta are afraid of enraging certain jihadists. Are they concerned that if the police start erecting fences around Muslim mosques and close them down, that some of the most fanatical elements within Islam could launch a campaign of terror across Canada? Are they concerned about the global public condemnation by Muslims, the United Nations and other globalists from around the world for confiscating Islamic houses of worship? Of course they are.

Today, in Canada, Christian churches are being closed and occupied by the police. And how does most of the world respond? They say, “Good. Those Protestants are in rebellion. Shut them down.”

Now, let them try to do this to a Muslim mosque and you will see a

Leslie Marshall

But they feel they do. Toronto Mosque open and packed. Alberta Christian Church is closed by police and barricaded.

Why the hatred for the progenitor of the ideology that these progressive people so desperately want to display?

double standard. Canada would be accused by the world of recklessly provoking Muslims, and such provocation would be condemned as unacceptable and irresponsible. In addition, Alberta government officials do not want to provoke the ire of any radicalized Muslim in Canada who already believes that terrorism is an appropriate response to those who offend Islam; so, instead the politicians pick on Protestants.

Allowing mosques to remain open in defiance of Canadian law means that health officials in Alberta recognize that Sharia law takes precedence over their own health mandates, and even their written Constitution. That is what Muslims believe anyway. Muslims are not going to obey the “infidels” and stop worshiping. And, tragically, most Canadians, as in the United States, no longer care about the rule of law or the Constitution.

And adopting the same hardline approach against mosques that has been used against GraceLife Church would be characterized as “Islamophobia.” No politically correct government official wants to be labeled with that characterization. So, in Canada, they closed churches that refuse to comply with the government’s pandemic mandates, but not mosques. Canada is especially harsh and discriminatory towards Protestants, while completely leaving Muslims alone.

This is the problem with some authorities. To secure public favor, they selectively and inconsistently enforce their own rules and offer illogical justifications for doing so. Public health experts are constantly creating new and ever-changing pandemic policies. These policies are being used to create a new kind of “criminal” among ordinary Christians during the coronavirus crisis. We have been warned:

“Even in free America, rulers and legislators, in order to secure public favor, will yield to the popular demand for a law enforcing Sunday observance. Liberty of conscience, which has cost so great a sacrifice, will no longer be respected. In the soon-coming conflict we shall see exemplified the prophet’s words: ‘The dragon was wroth with the woman, and went to make war with the remnant of her seed, which keep the commandments of God, and have the testimony of Jesus Christ, Revelation 12:17” (The Great Controversy, p. 592).

Conspirator's Hierarchy The Story of the Committee of 300

Note: Here is an excerpt from a 169-page document by Dr. John Coleman on what some men are planning for our world. [1]

"Euthanasia for the terminally ill and the aged shall be compulsory. No cities shall be larger than a predetermined number as described in the work of Kalgeri. Essential workers will be moved to other cities if the one they are in becomes overpopulated. Other non-essential workers will be chosen at random and sent to under-populated cities to fill 'quotas.'

"At least 4 billion "useless eaters" shall be eliminated by the year 2050 by means of limited wars, organized epidemics of fatal rapid-acting disease and starvation. Energy, food and water shall be kept at subsistence levels for the non-elite, starting with the White populations of Western Europe and North America and then spreading to other races. The populations of Canada, Western Europe and the United States will be decimated more rapidly than on other continents, until the world's population reaches a manageable level of 1 billion, of which 500 million will consist of Chinese and Japanese races, selected because they are people who have been regimented for centuries and who are accustomed to obeying authority without question.

"From time to time there will be artificially contrived food and water shortages and medical care to remind the masses that their very existence depends on the goodwill of the Committee of 300."

*"And I saw one of his heads as it were wounded to death;
and his deadly wound was healed:
and all the world wondered after the beast"
Revelation 13:3.*

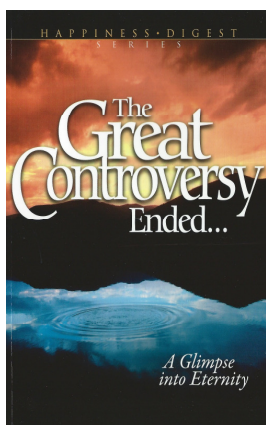

The deadly wound of Revelation 13:3 is nearly healed. The fulfillment of the rest of Revelation 13 is just around the corner. Here is an outline of the Jesuit's plans for America and the world. But what they do not understand is that The Book of Revelation will not allow them to exist until 2050. The Lord will cut short in righteousness their evil plans. We believe Jesus is preparing to come much sooner than 2050. As soon as a huge spiritual revival takes place in America, then He will send the Latter Rain upon His people who keep the commandments of God and have the faith of Jesus. Read all about this in Revelation and The Great Controversy.

“Before the final visitation of God’s judgments upon the earth there will be among the people of the Lord such a revival of primitive godliness as has not been witnessed since apostolic times.

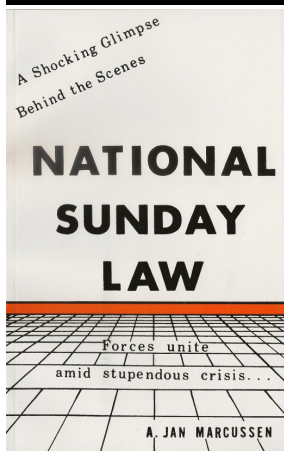

The Spirit and power of God will be poured out upon His children. At that time many will separate themselves from those churches in which the love of this world has supplanted love for God and His word. Many, both of ministers and people, will gladly accept those great truths which God has caused to be proclaimed at this time to prepare a people for the Lord’s second coming. The enemy of souls desires to hinder this work; and before the time for such a movement shall come, he will endeavor to prevent it by introducing a counterfeit. In those churches which he can bring under his deceptive power he will make it appear that God’s special blessing is poured out; there will be manifest what is thought to be great religious interest. Multitudes will exult that God is working marvelously for them, when the work is that of another spirit. Under a religious guise, Satan will seek to extend his influence over the Christian world” (The Great Controversy, p. 464 – This is chapter 27, “Modern Revivals.”)

We can certainly see these modern revivals in the works. We are witnessing the beginning of this type of movement that will only accelerate in the near future. And as soon as they take place, according to what the above paragraph says, we can look for the true revival. Friends, we do not have long for this world. Praise the Lord – He is coming sooner than we think!

In this news magazine we have mentioned The Great Controversy frequently. If you have not read it, be sure to do whatever you can to obtain a copy. It is a fascinating history book that outlines the survival of Christianity from the apostles to our day and beyond. It gives a summary of reformers who lived during the Dark Ages, 538 to 1798 A.D. What organization was trying to squelch the reading of Scripture? Why were Christians persecuted for owning a Bible? Why did they not want the Bible to be available to the public? Will this organization have power again to control the masses? This book tells the story! Order online or call us to find out how to get a copy.

A STUPENDOUS CRISIS AWAITS America. You will be amazed. This book will give the details; it will take you behind the scenes and explore the shocking “who,” “how” and “when.”

Globalists are using a pseudo science to de-Christianize society from biblical truth by promoting pantheism, reverence to Mother Earth and a green Sunday law. Pope Francis is preaching an apocalyptic message mixed with leftist ideologies. He uses the signs Jesus gave in prophecy about the end-times to promote an environmental message. He introduces an alternative narrative that is not found in the Bible. This is a distraction so that Christians are not talking about the real end-time message. Learn about it in Climate Crisis.

Whenever people embark down the path of seeking common witness or common ground through multi-faith, multi-cultural, multi-god celebrations they need to know they are not following Jesus. They are following in the footsteps of the Jesuits – no, even worse – they are following in the footsteps of the Black Pope, the Jesuit Superior General who gets his orders direct from Lucifer. It is a tragedy that the only words you hear at these interfaith gatherings are “unity,” “diversity,” “common cause,” “reconciliation,” “dialogue” “joint-prayer,” “building bridges,” “friendships,” “relationships,” “pluralism,” “love.” There is a reason. It’s all part of the Jesuit agenda. See how much they control in this world.

If God Had Not Been on Our Side

By Martin Luther

If God had not been on our side
And had not come to aid us,
The foes with all their power and pride
Would surely have dismayed us.
For we, His flock, would have to fear
The threat of men both far and near
Who rise in might against us.

Their furious wrath, did God permit,
Would surely have consumed us;
And as a deep and yawning pit
With life and limb entombed us.
Like men o'er whom dark waters roll,
Their wrath would have engulfed our soul
And, like a flood, ore'whelmed us.

Blest be the Lord, who foiled their threat
That they could not devour us;
Our souls, like birds, escaped their net,
They could not overpower us.
The snare is broken and we are free!
Our help is ever, Lord, in Thee,
Who madest Heaven and earth and us.
