Revelation 18:24.

How many know that Rome is the key player in the last events of our world? How many pastors and teachers are sharing this fact from Bible Prophecy? How many see through the news that all religions are bowing in submission to the Pope, either directly or indirectly? Even Islam is bowing to Rome!

The World-wide Work of the Jesuits

Note: For Context see The Great Controversy.

The Jesuit Order was created for two reasons – 1) to overthrow Protestantism and 2) for the reestablishment of papal supremacy, (see page 234).

“Under various disguises the Jesuits worked their way into offices of State, climbing up to be the counselors of kings [including that of our president who does not know the danger he is in], and shaping the policy of nations.” Wherever they went in Europe there followed a revival of popery, (see page 234).

Satan is determined to unite all into one body to strengthen his cause and to sweep all into the ranks of spiritualism, (see page 588).

When Protestants shall stretch their hand to grasp the hand of the Roman power and spiritualism, when under the influence of this threefold union our country shall repudiate every principle of its Constitution as a Protestant and republican government and make provision for the propagation of papal falsehoods and delusions, then we may know that the time has come for the marvelous working of Satan and that the end is near.

By now, Rome and her many agents have infiltrated every government of the world, every denomination, numerous businesses and organizations. They have taken over the educational system in every country, have rewritten the history books and destroyed the true history of nations. They have infiltrated gangs, ministries and churches. They are ready to control the masses all over the world. [We have seen an example of this in the most recent crisis, COVID-19.] Prophecy has predicted the rise of the Papal power with the Jesuits working to shape the religious and political landscape of the civilized world since the 1500s. The healing of the deadly wound (Revelation 13:3) is one of the clearest indications that we are at the end. In this issue of Life Lines you will see only a glimpse of how some are working, what their aim is and who their associates are.

Following in the Footsteps of the Jesuits

Whenever people embark down the path of seeking common witness or common ground through multi-faith, multi-cultural or multi-god celebrations, they need to know they are not following Jesus. They are following in the footsteps of the Jesuits – no, even worse – they are following in the footsteps of the Black Pope, the Jesuit Superior General Arturo Sosa, who receives his orders directly from Satan. [1] The Jesuit Superior General is supposed to pledge his loyalty to the Roman Catholic Church, but here he sits in a Buddhist Temple building bridges of mutual respect, peace and harmony with Buddhist priests who have nothing in common with the beliefs of the Christian faith. These acts of interfaith-worship endeavor to bring an end to all old divisions that used to separate the different faiths. This is all part of Rome's plan. The Jesuits are fulfilling the Vatican's call to unite Christian churches [2] and pagan non-Christian religions. [3]

Here we see Sosa perform the water offering. This is one of the most common devotions in Buddhism. The sprinkling of water with a tree branch is an act of consecration. They believe that making these offerings will give you good Karma (luck) in your journey through life. But according to eastern philosophy, what does the wheel represent?

The “Wheel of Dharma” is sacred to the traditions of Buddhism, Hinduism and Jainism. In Buddhism the wheel represents the philosophical teachings of Gautama Buddha which are supposed to put you on the path to enlightenment. The water is a symbol of cleansing.

The Jesuits are on a mission to replace and transform churches with a more loving, inclusive and culturally diverse form of worship. They are working to bring the entire religious world into one ecumenical family. Rome, of course, will be at the head of this One World Religious Order.

As head of the Society of Jesus, Arturo Sosa is in charge of overseeing the “mission” of Jesuits world-wide. He has set the example he wants every Jesuit to follow. Divisions and hostilities between the different faiths must come to an end. Rome is working to eliminate any and all threats to her supremacy. The only religions that will remain in Rome’s New World Order will be those who are ecumenical and in agreement with Rome.

This is why Jesuits are so extremely dangerous and radical. They will do whatever it takes to achieve their objective, even if it means worshipping false pagan deities and forcing others to do the same.

The Jesuit Superior General is pictured below in the center with a plain white shirt. Next to him is one of his well-trained operatives, Monsignor Enrique “Kike” Figaredo Alvargonzalez S.J., who is also the Apostolic Prefect of Battambang, Cambodia. [4] And even though he is Arturo Sosa’s subordinate he is doing his job very well. As Apostolic Jesuit Superior General Arturo Sosa is standing in the middle. Next to him is his subordinate Jesuit Priest Enrique Figaredo, S.J.

Prefecture, Figaredo is in charge of all the northwestern part of Cambodia which covers an area of 80,430 km² or 31,054 square miles. Ten other priests help Figaredo pastor the area.

Here Enrique Figaredo, S.J. consecrates Buddhist monks with holy water just before a special spiritualistic ceremony called the “Day of Prayer, Care and Protection of the Creation and Natural Environment.” They prayed and planted trees in the new Botanic Garden of the Parish and had a Peace and Blessing Dance to celebrate this “special” day promoted by Pope Francis. [5]

The tree is revered and is sacred to eastern pagan philosophy. The Jesuit engages in pagan celebrations to demonstrate understanding and awareness, to draw natives into interfaith partnership.

The Buddhist monks reciprocate blessings and consecrate the Jesuit Priest, Enrique Figaredo, with their own holy water while the Jesuit prays to his god. This is what you call a true ecumenical, joint-worship service.

There is nothing like ending the day of interfaith cooperation by forming a circle around their idol. Here the children perform dances which show gratitude, generosity and enlightenment, not to the Creator God of the Bible, but to gods of wood and stone. This is the path the Jesuits are trying to drag the rest of the religious world through and sad to say, with much success. This is what some call fostering mutual respect, peace, harmony and love. God's word on the other hand calls this an abomination:

"For what fellowship hath righteousness with unrighteousness? and what communion hath light with darkness? And what concord hath Christ with Belial? or what part hath he that believeth with an infidel? And what agreement hath the temple of God with idols? for ye are the temple of the living God; as God hath said, I will dwell in them, and walk in them; and I will be their God, and they shall be my people. Wherefore, come out from among them, and be ye separate, saith the Lord, and touch not the unclean thing; and I will receive you, and will be a Father unto you, and ye shall be my sons and daughters, saith the Lord Almighty" 2 Corinthians 6:14-18.

Jesuit Sister Coghlan

The Jesuit Superior General is working on another mission. He is keeping his Jesuits very busy. This Jesuit leader has another operative with whom he is making contact while on his tour in Cambodia.

Don't let appearances

deceive you. This special agent is a woman, Jesuit Sister Denise Coghlan, RSM. She is a nun from the Sisters of Mercy Order and was specifically chosen by the Jesuit Order to pioneer and facilitate a special work or “mission.” In her own words she says: “I was one of the four chosen to be a pioneer of the Jesuits.” [6]

So what has Denise Coghlan been up to? What is her mission? She has taken the same principles of ecumenism and eastern philosophies of the cosmos and mingled them with the Pope’s Green Sunday law encyclical – Laudato Si’. She has adopted the Pope’s desires and goals as her own. She promotes Catholic social policies of climate justice and care for the environment. She advocates the common good of all humanity and encourages politicians to unite with the Pope’s desires for the care of mother earth.

THE TRUE CHARACTER OF THE PAPACY

Romanism is now regarded by Protestants with far greater favor than in former years. ... The Roman Church now presents a fair front to the world, covering with apologies her record of horrible cruelties. She has clothed herself in Christlike garments; but she is unchanged. Every principle of the Papacy that existed in past ages exists today. The doctrines devised in the darkest ages are still held. Let none deceive themselves. The Papacy that Protestants are now so ready to honor is the same that ruled the world in the days of the Reformation, when men of God stood up, at the peril of their lives, to expose her iniquities. She possesses the same pride and arrogant assumption that lorded it over kings and princes, and claimed the prerogatives of God. Her spirit is no less cruel and despotic now than when she crushed out human liberty and slew the saints of the Most High during the Dark Ages of 538-1798 A.D.

The Papacy is just what prophecy declared that she would be, the apostasy of the latter times. 2 Thessalonians 2:3, 4. It is a part of her policy to assume the character which will best accomplish her purpose; but beneath the variable appearance of the chameleon she conceals the invariable venom of the serpent.

“Faith ought not to be kept with heretics, nor persons suspected of heresy” (Lenfant, volume 1, page 516), she declares. Shall this power, whose record for a thousand years is written in the blood of the saints, be now acknowledged as a part of the church of Christ?

It is not without reason that the claim has been put forth in Protestant countries that Catholicism differs less widely from Protestantism than in former times. There has been a change; but the change is not in the Papacy. Catholicism indeed resembles much of the Protestantism that now exists, because Protestantism has so greatly degenerated since the days of the Reformers.

Let the restraints now imposed by secular governments be removed and Rome be reinstated in her former power, and there will speedily be a revival of her tyranny and persecution. GC 571.

Green Sunday Law Stole or Vestments

Here Jesuit Denise Coghlan offers to her Father Superior General his very own Laudato Si' green stole or vestment to wear while performing mass. She presented one to Sosa and gave another to be taken back to Rome for Pope Francis.

Sosa, on the extreme left, gives Pope Francis his own Laudato Si' vestment to represent the green environment. Please note that Pope Francis nearly worships the stole.

The stole was created by Ms. Coghlan and her associates in the jungles of Asia, to commemorate Pope Francis' Encyclical. [7] The Pope is so happy that his encyclical is taken seriously, even in the jungles of SE Asia.

The inscription says "Laudato Si' Mi Signore" which translates into English: "Praise be unto You, my Lord." The praise being offered is a mixture of pantheism and the green "new deal" – the Sunday law.

Here the vestments are being worn by Catholic clergy. As mentioned, they are promoting pantheism and the Green Sunday law. How do these vestments connect to pantheism? Read on.

On the left is the famous Jesuit Priest, Enrique Figaredo, S.J., the same priest who loves to engage in pagan spiritualistic celebrations with the Buddhists. In the center is Father Superior General, Arturo Sosa. They are both wearing the green vestments which commemorate the Pope's green Sunday law and pantheism—gods in the environment. Notice that “Holy Mass” is about to begin.

Notice the picture on the front wall to the right. Is it Jesus? God? Why not the Virgin Mary? No, this is a special tree, the Bodhi Tree. Ask any Buddhist and they will tell you about this special tree and its significance through their founder, Gautama Buddha. Every faithful Buddhist knows that according to their tradition Buddha received his enlightenment and became a god by meditating underneath the Bodhi Tree.

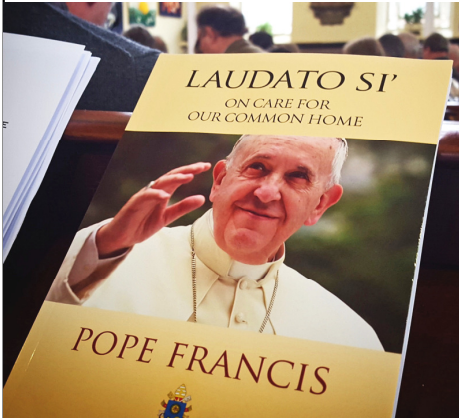

And, why is it important to know about these two Jesuit operatives – Denise Coghlan (left) and Jesuit Priest Enrique Figaredo, pictured below? Because they are promoting pantheism, paganism, ecumenism and the Pope’s green Sunday law. They are doing the bidding and fulfilling the Jesuit mission of the Superior General. As we can clearly see, Jesuits come in all shapes and sizes. Remember, these are just two of the 16,000+ Jesuits that are in our world today. [8] [Continued on page 14]

Denise Coghlan is now traveling the globe presenting the message from her Jesuit Superior at international forums and conferences world-wide.

Surely You Have Heard of Laudato Si'

The Catholic Climate Movement is a global network of over 900 Catholic organizations, including Jesuits, the Knights of Columbus and many other groups. [1] They are organized for a new purpose – to implement Pope Francis' Laudato Si' encyclical [2] which calls, through stealth, for “Sunday” to be the “law of weekly rest” and of course they say it is to save the environment.

According to the actual text, Laudato Si' has a “Sunday” rest provision (section #237) and an “enforcement of law” provision (section #179). [3]

The Sunday law movement is gaining new life and covering new ground as Pope Francis' encyclical is being used to push through a Sunday rest measure. These Sunday law agitators are campaigning to stop the so called desecration of the environment. This climate issue has become a national debate as some in our US Congress have become engrossed in this controversy.

Rome is pleased with all the attention her Sunday doctrine is receiving. It is proving to be a way to unite the religious and legislative branches, of bringing the secular and religious together. Our legislators and several Protestant churches are fighting to secure Rome's future Sunday law. They are laying the groundwork for the final crisis.

In the end only a small minority will oppose the green Sunday law measure and only a few will stand up in defense of religious liberty. It is sad to say, but only a few Seventh-day Adventists are opposing it. Most SDAs don't even know there is a problem on the horizon.

Here, Denise Coghlan attends the G-20 Interfaith Forum in order to push the Jesuit agenda on a panel of interfaith religious leaders. And just who might all these religious leaders be?

Protestant Representation

It is a tragedy that the only words which you ever hear at these inter-faith gatherings are words like “unity,” “diversity,” “reconciliation,” “dialog” “joint-prayer,” “common cause,” “building bridges,” “friendships,” “relationships,” “pluralism” and “love.” There is a reason for this. It’s all part of a plan.

One word you will NEVER hear in these gatherings is the word “truth.” What about truth? Jesus is truth (John 14:6). God is truth (Exodus 34:6). His Spirit is truth (John 16:13). God’s word is truth (John 17:17). But all we hear is “love, love, love.” What about having a LOVE for truth? Only when we have a love for the truth will we cease being seduced by error. We will not be able to detect the working of Satan if we are ignoring truth.

“Even him, whose coming is after the working of Satan with all power and signs and lying wonders, and with all deceivableness of unrighteousness in them that perish; because they received not the love of the truth, that they might be saved. And for this cause God shall send them strong delusion, that they should believe a lie: that they all might be damned who believed not the truth, but had pleasure in unrighteousness” 2 Thessalonians 2:9-12.

They were all part of the same panel at the 2019 G-20 Interfaith Forum. [9]

That is why God gave us, as a people, certain historic truths and pillars of faith: to defend us against error. God gave us fundamental beliefs, not fundamental feelings of emotion. We can’t keep ignoring truth when engaging with the world.

Some may say, “Jesus sat down with sinners, so we need to do the same. We need to engage with people where they are, even if we have to attend their ecumenical events.” That is a mixture of half a truth with absolute error. Jesus did sit down with sinners because there was no one else in the world but sinners. Jesus never sat down with idols. He never sat through false worship and He didn’t ignore the fact and remain quiet when people worshiped false gods.

We are deceiving ourselves when we believe that we can go and listen to error and not be affected by it. Just look at the sad history of Christian Conservatism. It is a fact that after more than 60 years of participating in ecumenism we know not one liberal Evangelical, Catholic, Orthodox or any other non-biblical church who have given up their errors or changed their position on a single doctrinal point. All compromises have been made by conservative Protestants. From start to finish, no other church has changed one bit or budged one inch as a result of ecumenism.

Yes, conservatives are making all the compromises! Consequently, our churches are adopting liberal ideas – the LGBTQ+ agenda, feminism and environmentalism – while conservative values are disappearing.

The nature of Christ, the nature of His atonement, attacks on inspired writings, prophecy, the law of God, Daniel and Revelation, the judgment and sanctuary messages, our views on the papacy, the antichrist, the mark of the beast and other distinctive doctrinal beliefs have been changed and/or discarded as a result of our involvement in ecumenism which began at the time of Vatican 2 which took place from 1962-1965.

So, please, let's not deceive ourselves or others by saying that we are preaching the Three Angels' Messages when the only message that ever gets promoted is Rome's social agenda!

There is a reason for all that we see happening today. Many of our own people share the same views and policies that have been embraced by the world. How did this happen? You can thank Rome for spreading their worldview in our midst: through the school system, inter-faith forum, in our periodicals and numerous other means. We were warned about this, and sadly, the warning has proved 100% true:

“As the storm approaches, a large class who have professed faith in the third angel's message, but have not been sanctified through obedience to the truth, abandon their position and join the ranks of the opposition. By uniting with the world and partaking of its spirit [ecumenism and worldliness], they have come to view matters in nearly the same light; and when the test is brought, they are prepared to choose the easy, popular side. Men of talent and pleasing address, who once rejoiced in the truth, employ their powers to deceive and mislead souls” (The Great Controversy, 608).

“The order of the Jesuits was created ... for the overthrow of Protestantism, and the re-establishment of papal supremacy” (The Great Controversy, 234).

“Under various disguises the Jesuits worked their way into offices of State, climbing up to be the counselors of kings, and shaping the policy of nations” [and churches] (Ibid.).

So it has been! And true to Jesuit plans, we suspect infiltration!

Jesuit Theologian Predicts “Laudato Si” will become Law in Ten Years or Less”

Note: We think that it will be far less than 10 years!

Dr. Charlie Camosy, a Jesuit professor, is part of the Theology Department at Fordham University, a premier Jesuit institution in New York City. [1] He recently published an article in which he claims that our world has about 10 years to “dramatically curb our carbon emissions before we reach a tipping point.” Dr. Camosy argues that in “light of this emergency” we must work to “pass dramatic legislation” to prevent the coming climate “disaster.” [2]

What “legislation” is he referring to? He says that the “Green New Deal” being proposed by Democratic politicians has “zero chance” of passing, but he claims that Pope Francis’ Laudato Si encyclical is “far more superior” for “immediate legislative approaches.” In other words, this Jesuit agent is saying that the Pope’s green Sunday law (Laudato Si) is the best solution for the climate crisis and should be legislated immediately!

After a lengthy praise and assessment of Laudato Si, Dr. Charlie Camosy says the Pope’s document is the only answer to all our problems. He also revealed that he believes in about “10 years” or “perhaps even sooner” Laudato Si will be embraced through legal enactment. He calls it “life changing legislation,” and compares the Pope’s encyclical to the “power” of changed “hearts” during the legalization of “same-sex marriage.”

Dr. Charlie Camosy said that it only took 10 years (2004-2014) to change our “culture” in regard to gay marriage. He is hoping that our nation can also experience an ecological conversion in a similar time-frame. He believes this will happen when we commit ourselves to an “ecological education” in the “school, in families, in the media, in catechesis [churches] and elsewhere.” Dr. Camosy concludes his article with the words, “Let’s get to work.”

It has begun. So the Jesuits say the Pope’s green Sunday law is coming in 10 years or less. This is their projection, not ours. They are hoping that through a massive “ecological education” campaign the hearts and minds of people will be changed to accept Laudato Si’ – and they have already started.

All this has been prophesied. We are seeing final events taking place NOW. Notice how inspiration makes the connection between a climate crisis and a Sunday law, written over 100 years ago. The proponents of Sunday will link these climate calamities with the violation of the Sunday-Sabbath issue:

“In accidents and calamities by sea and by land, in great conflagrations, in fierce tornadoes and terrific hail-storms, in tempests, floods, cyclones, tidal waves and earthquakes, in every place and in a thousand forms, Satan is exercising his power. He sweeps away the ripening harvest, and famine and distress follow. He imparts to the air a deadly taint, and thousands perish by the pestilence. These visitations are to become more and more frequent and disastrous.

“It will be declared that men are offending God by the violation of Sunday-Sabbath, that this sin has brought calamities which will not cease until Sunday observance shall be strictly enforced, and those who present the claims of the 4th commandment, thus destroying reverence for Sunday, are troublers of the people, preventing restoration to divine favor and temporal prosperity” (The Great Controversy, 590).

So we see how this manufactured climate crisis is to culminate in a National Sunday Law. Sunday, the counterfeit Sabbath, the mark of apostasy – is being disguised as the only solution to save our society from destruction. All of this continual agitation for Laudato Si’ is the master plan of Rome to conceal her true intention and to establish its ecclesiastical supremacy worldwide by dominating both church and state.

This is nothing more than a global deception being perpetrated by religious and civil organizations. They are coming together to save the planet by pushing the Pope's green Sunday law – in ten years or less! May God have mercy upon us and may He help us to wake up and get ready for what is soon to take place. It is now time for everyone to see through all the lies and to know that THE END IS UPON US!

The Jesuit Oath

Secreta Monita Societatis Jesu (Secret Instructions of the Jesuits) is a book of instruction written in 1658 and first translated into English in 1669 during the height of the Holy Inquisition by the Roman Catholic Church. Several copies of this book are found online. This book was originally found within the archives of a Jesuit college in Panderborn, Germany. Subsequent editions were also found in France, England and Holland without any attempt to refute the claims. Remember, the document was found during the period that the Jesuit Order was a vital collaborator of the Holy Inquisition both in the Old and New Worlds. In the Appendix, Section 8, p. 120 of Secreta Monita is found the infamous Jesuit Oath. The oath says in part:

“I do further promise and declare that I will, when opportunity presents, make and wage relentless war, secretly and openly, against all heretics, Protestants and Masons, as I am directed to do, to extirpate them from the face of the whole earth; and that I will spare neither age, sex, nor condition, and that I will hang, burn, waste, boil, flay, strangle, and bury alive these infamous heretics; rip up the stomachs and wombs of their women, and crush their infants' heads against the walls in order to annihilate their execrable race. That when the same cannot be done openly I will secretly use the poisonous cup, the strangulation cord, the steel of the poniard, or the leaden bullet, regardless of the honour, rank, dignity or authority of the persons, whatever may be their condition in life, either public or private, as I at any time may be directed so to do by any agents of the Pope or Superior of the Brotherhood of the Holy Father of the Society of Jesus.”

History Recorded in The Great Controversy

At this time [during the French Reformation] great perils surrounded the Protestant cause. The anathemas of the Pope thundered against Geneva, and mighty nations threatened it with destruction. How was this little city to resist the powerful hierarchy that had so often forced kings and emperors to submission? How could it stand against the armies of the world's great conquerors?

Throughout Christendom, Protestantism was menaced by formidable foes. The first triumphs of the Reformation past, Rome summoned new forces, hoping to accomplish its destruction. At this time the order of the Jesuits was created [1534], the most cruel, unscrupulous, and powerful of all the champions of popery. Cut off from earthly ties and human interests, dead to the claims of natural affection, reason and conscience wholly silenced, they knew no rule, no tie, but that of their order, and no duty but to extend its power. (See Appendix Note 1, page 22-23.)

The gospel of Christ had enabled its adherents to meet danger and endure suffering, undismayed by cold, hunger, toil and poverty, to uphold the banner of truth in face of the rack, the dungeon and the stake. To combat these forces, Jesuitism inspired its followers with a fanaticism that enabled them to endure like dangers, and to oppose the power of truth with all the weapons of deception. There was no crime too great for them to commit, no deception too base for them to practice, no disguise too difficult for them to assume. Vowed to perpetual poverty and humility, it was their studied aim to secure wealth and power, to be devoted to the overthrow of Protestantism, and the reestablishment of papal supremacy.

When appearing as members of their order, they wore a garb of sanctity, visiting prisons and hospitals, ministering to the sick and the poor, professing to have renounced the world, and bearing the sacred name of Jesus, who went about doing good. But under this blameless exterior the most criminal and deadly purposes were often concealed. It was a fundamental principle of the order that the end justifies the means. By this code, lying, theft, perjury, assassination were not only pardonable but commendable, when they served the interests of the church. Under various disguises the Jesuits worked their way into offices of state, climbing up to be the counselors of kings [even surrounding our own President Trump], and shaping the policy of nations. They became servants to act as spies upon their masters. They established colleges for the sons of princes and nobles and schools for the common people; and the children of Protestant parents were drawn into an observance of popish rites. All the outward pomp and display of the Romish worship was brought to confuse the mind and dazzle and captivate the imagination, and thus the liberty for which the fathers had toiled and bled was betrayed by the sons.

The Jesuits rapidly spread themselves over Europe, and wherever they went, there followed a revival of popery.

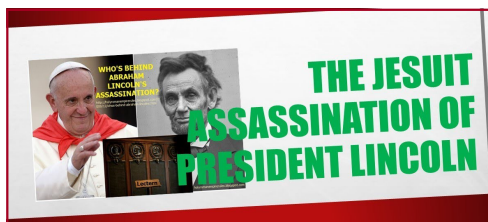

To give them greater power, a bull was issued reestablishing the inquisition. (See Catholic Encyclopedia, "History of the Inquisition in the Middle Ages," by J. Blotzer, S.J., Munich, Germany.) Notwithstanding the general abhorrence with which it was regarded, even in Catholic countries, this terrible tribunal was again set up by popish rulers, and atrocities too terrible to bear the light of day were repeated in its secret dungeons. In many countries, thousands upon thousands of the very flower of the nation, the purest and noblest, the most intellectual and highly educated, pious and devoted pastors, industrious and patriotic citizens, brilliant scholars, talented artists, skillful artisans, were slain or forced to flee to other lands.

History of the Reformation, by J.A. Wylie, 2:412.

Such were the means which Rome had invoked to quench the light of the Reformation, to withdraw from men the Bible, and to restore the ignorance and superstition of the Dark Ages. But under God's blessing and the labors of those noble men whom He had raised up to succeed Luther, Protestantism was not overthrown. Not to the favor or arms of princes was it to owe its strength. The smallest countries, the humblest and least powerful nations, became its strongholds. It was little Geneva in the midst of mighty foes plotting her destruction; it was Holland on her sandbanks by the northern sea, wrestling against the tyranny of Spain, then the greatest and most opulent of kingdoms; it was bleak, sterile Sweden that gained victories for the Reformation (The Great Controversy, 234-236).

Appendix Note 1: Jesuitism.—For a statement concerning the origin, the principles, and the purposes of the "Society of Jesus," as outlined by members of this order, see a work entitled Concerning Jesuits, edited by the Rev. John Gerard, S.J., and published in London, 1902, by the Catholic Truth Society. In this work it is said,

"The mainspring of the whole organization of the Society is a spirit of entire obedience: 'Let each one,' writes St. Ignatius, 'persuade himself that those who live under obedience ought to allow themselves to be moved and directed by divine Providence through their superiors, just as though they were a dead body, which allows itself to be carried anywhere and to be treated in any manner whatever, or as an old man's staff, which serves him who holds it in his hand in whatsoever way he will.'

"This absolute submission is ennobled by its motive, and should be,' continues the ... founder, 'prompt, joyous and persevering; ... The obedient religious accomplishes joyfully that which his superiors have confided to him for the general good, assured that thereby he corresponds truly with the divine will.'"—The Comtesse R. de Courson, in Concerning Jesuits, page 6.

A Mighty Fortress

By Martin Luther, 1529

A mighty fortress is our God, a bulwark never failing;
Our helper He, amid the flood of mortal ills prevailing:
For still our ancient foe doth seek to work us woe;
His craft and power are great, and, armed with cruel hate,
On earth is not his equal.

Did we in our own strength confide, our striving would be losing,
Were not the right Man on our side, the Man of God's own choosing:
Dost ask who that may be? Christ Jesus, it is He;
Lord Sabaoth, His Name, from age to age the same,
And He must win the battle.

And though this world, with devils filled, should threaten to undo us,
We will not fear, for God hath willed, His truth to triumph through us;
The Prince of Darkness grim, we tremble not for him;
His rage we can endure, for lo, his doom is sure,
One little word shall fell him!

That word above all earthly powers, no thanks to them, abideth;
The Spirit and the gifts are ours through Him Who with us sideth;
Let goods and kindred go, this mortal life also;
The body they may kill: God's truth abideth still,
His kingdom is forever!
